I wanted Shingo to be unaware of Nanoka and Hana. He's dumb. Sue me, I'm not a writer for entertaining books about me.

I know, I know, you guys want more even though we haven't reached 1000 Likes. But seriously, learn about delayed gratification, for crying out loud! You know what doesn't help? Yelling and screaming for more chapters while you sit on your ass and furiously fap in front of your screen.

Yes, it's irritating wait for the next chapter, and websites shamelessly steal my translations and make a profit out of them. But what makes me even more disappointed is the amount of people that don't appreciate what's given to them. Even I have limited time and money, and if you're not helping out by spending your free time or paying a dollar, why should you complain?

I'm taking a break. Y'all need Jesus.
